From the Principal's Desk

FRANCIS CASTELINO

Every human person wants to be recognized, appreciated, and respected. But one cannot get them by influencing or imposing one's authority. You need to earn through your genuine action and exemplary life.

Sow the seeds of humility, cheerfulness, enthusiasm and good character.

Stop proving yourself to others what you are / what you are doing. It takes a large amount of energy to be continuously pointing out your accomplishments and trying to convince others of your worth as a human being.

Keep a cheerful face - Health, Wealth and Happiness are in a smile. When you smile your brain puts into action the 'endorphins' - the natural pain relieving system of the body. You will feel even better.

Be enthusiastic. With enthusiasm you can move with confidence. Show great interest in the success of others and not only the failures.

A peaceful behaviour is a source of pleasure. Cultivate good manners, courtesy and kindness. Have consideration for the opinion of others.

Shed your selfishness and put on the armour of selfless service, utmost kindness and heavenly wisdom; give without expecting anything in return, do small things with great love.

The Holy Scripture sums up the whole message with the saying "Do to others what you want to be done to you."

Wish you all a Happy and blessed New Year
